

ABOUT US

Since its inception in 1974, the Law & Economics Center has played a critical role as a leader in law and economics research and education. The LEC recognizes both the importance of timely, relevant, and unassailable research on public policy issues as well as the necessity of communicating research findings to those who are directly shaping our country's public policy discussions. With research divisions devoted to top-quality legal policy analysis and educational arms reaching out to judges, attorneys general, and other policymakers, the LEC is uniquely equipped to positively affect national policy outcomes.

The generous support of individuals, foundations, and corporations makes LEC activities possible. A current list of LEC donors may be found on our website at www.masonlec.org.
